

Sculptures from the soul. The journey and evolution of change in ones life time; the moving from one self to the next; the process of renewal; mapping out new territories from within; these are just some of of the themes explored in the work of Patrick Barry. The medium of stone and way Patrick views the world have fused together, marrying the energies within him, sculpting is a physical manifestation of thought processes. Consequently these influences are [more]
